Ticket stubs and money are due to the School Office November 5th.

Did you know...

...that 5th grade just finished writing their personal narrative stories? Come by and check them out!

...3rd grade has learned the Priests Prayer and is praying the Vocation Cross this week. Thank you Third Grade.

...Running Club practices Wednesdays 3:00 - 3:45. They meet on the black top.

... Gigianna Skaggs is the first grade Star of the Week! She wants to be a school teacher when she grows up. She can "ride a bike, do a front flip on her bed, and uses the good heart that Jesus gave her":) Congratulations Gigianna!

...the 8th graders have memorized the Priests Prayer and are praying a decade of the rosary each day in religion class.

...the 8th graders will be doing 20 hours of community service over the next 13 weeks as part of their religion coursework, following the Spiritual & Corporal Works of Mercy.

To My Walking Supporters...from Pat

It has been a difficult two weeks since I last commented; mom was gravely ill and I spent more time on the phone than walking. Then I left for Washington, D.C. The trip was great and I did manage to complete 34 miles in the five days according to my pedometer! My miles were not aerobic, but no one can tell me walking the Arlington Cemetery uphill to the highest point of D.C. wasn't a work out! The food plan on the trip was not my usual steel cut oatmeal and steamed veggies I had grown accustomed to but I justified the diet of fast food courts with the fact that my body needed something in it to keep up with the kids 20 hours a day. And now that the trip is over I am going back to my routine. If there is one thing I have, it is determination...or is that a 'stubborn streak' as my mother refers to it as? Whatever the word, I intend to make you all proud by May. Thanks for the support!

Thank you to the fabulous parents who accompanied the 7th and 8th Grade students to Washington, D.C.. They were wonderfully helpful, fun to be with, and a delight to know better. The students were, as usual, perfect and made a very positive name for St. Luke's. Ask them about their reception by the guards before viewing the Constitution! We have a creative group!
