

A Note From I -B

October 5, 2008

Thank you so much for your support over the past two weeks. Needless to say, this difficult time has been made easier knowing that the children and parents of I -B would carry on without me. The children created a lovely book for me, wishing me well and back to Hunnewell soon. As you know, I will be back on Monday. I spent time in the classroom today, catching up on all that I missed, and preparing for the weeks ahead.

Announcements

- Monday I will be sending home a conference sign-up form. Please complete it and return it as soon as possible. Due to my recent absence, I will be holding conferences November 4, 5 and 12.
- The Scholastic order forms were sent home last week, but I had not yet set up the online ordering option. It is now ready. If you would like to order books, you may order online or send in your check & order form by Friday, October 10.

Save The Date

- Thursday, October 9: No School, Yom Kippur
- Monday, October 13: No School, Columbus Day
