

Richard Avedon

~ My portraits are more about me than they are about the people I photograph.

~ I think all art is about control - the encounter between control and the uncontrollable.

~ All photographs are accurate. None of them is the truth.

