

Personal Reflection Assignment:

Reflect on an important event in your life which you are comfortable sharing with others.

The best events to use are ones that are:

- detailed
- somewhat unusual
- surprising in outcome
- emotionally engaging
- ironic
- not overly personal
- relatable

Reflect on the lesson you learned from this event.

The best lesson to use here is one that is:

- not obvious
- ironic
- profound
- insightful
- new

Write a two to three page reflective composition in which you draw an analogy between a personal experience and a general abstract truth.

Requirements:

Typed/double spaced/ standard font/ 12 point size

Free of mechanical and usage errors

Begin with a quotation that exemplifies the truth that will be discovered through your analogy
