

A Crazy Day for Bridget and Jessie

Bridget and her dog, Jessie, were running around a track when they became tired. They went and laid down under a tree in the shade. Soon, Bridget fell asleep. She started dreaming about her and Jessie living on a blue dot in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. When they realized that they were on a dot, Jessie started barking and Bridget screamed, "Help!" When all she heard was her echo she got scared.

Then she realized that there were two odd items on the dot with them an orange bowling pin and a bottle of hand sanitizer. All of a sudden, the sanitizer burst open and set the dot on fire. Jessie becomes frightened and jumps into the water. Bridget doesn't know what to do so she jumps into the water after her. Then suddenly they hear a loud rumbling noise. Then, Bridget yelled, "Whale!" Quickly they jumped back onto the remains of what was left of the dot and grabbed the bowling pin. A whale then suddenly jumps at them and snatches the bowling pin right out of Bridget's hands. Shortly after that, the whale ate them too.

So now, they're just sitting inside a whale's throat. Then Jessie starts barking at the whale's throat. She saw the bowling pin stuck in its throat! Then, they just started sliding down the whales' throat and grab the bowling pin as they fall into its stomach. When they reach the stomach, Bridget began to hit the whale with the pin. Then suddenly, they started going up and all of a sudden they were flying in the air. When they fell, they were laying in front of Mac-n-Mancos.

They realized then that they were on the boardwalk in Ocean City. Bridget was scared because it was winter time and there was no one around. She quickly cried, "Help!" There was no answer. But, then out of the blue came a lady named Anne. She quickly dialed 9-1-1 and many police cars arrived. When the police arrived, Bridget told them their story. The cops thought they were crazy but somehow believed them.

Then, suddenly they woke up. It was all a dream. They ran home to tell Bridget's parents. Then her parents told them that they had a surprise. They bought Bridget a cat for her birthday. Her name was Kajet. As soon as Kajet came out of her cage, Jessie ran after her out the door. Afraid she might lose both her pets, Bridget ran after them. As she became tired, she sat under a tree in the shade with her two pets. Then Bridget remarked, “Not again.”
