One day when Owen, Brice, Susie, Natalie, and Caroline were walking in the forest and they saw a bunch of people running away and screaming. Susie stops them and asks what was going on. A man says, "Don't be here! The king is going to destroy our town with magic bells and gems! Owen, Brice, Susie, Natalie, and Caroline were talking to each other to see what they were going to do.

They answered the man with much confidence, "No, we are going to help save our town and everyone living in it!"

The man replied, "Good luck!" and ran off.

Up ahead they saw a drummer boy and his soldiers coming to them. They were running so fast that the drummer boy fell and ripped his jacket. Caroline went and got her sewing kit to fix it. She fixed his jacket and then put a pin on his jacket and said to him, "Help us find the magic bells and save the town."

He replied, "Okay." They walked down the forest and saw the Mad Hatter. The soldiers put up their guns and as they were about to shoot, the Mad Hatter poofed them away. He had a pedometer that tracked his steps because he wanted to find the magic bells too.

They finally found the cave where king kept his magic bells and gems. Owen decided he wanted to go in. He looked very hard, but he had no luck in finding them. But up ahead he saw a light. He walked up to them and saw the bells and the gems. He grabbed them and tried to run away. But when he picked them up booby traps came out. But since he had the magic bells he could fly over them. He lost control and fell into quick sand. The king was running to him. Brice quickly got a shoe horn and saved Owen before the king got them. They flew home safely and saved the town.
