There once was a Gardening Angel who was planting flowers in her garden, when she was digging she uncovered a weird rock. The weird rock had glowing orange fish on it. When the Gardening Angel held the rock the fish said, "Go to the Ocean City New Jersey beach and find a tan seashell with a hole at the top of it." Right away the gardening angel jumped in her car and went as fast as she could to the beach. But the Gardening Angel hit traffic. It took the Gardening Angel two extra hours to get to the beach. When the Gardening Angel was walking on the warm sand of the beach she saw an arrow pointing at this seashell which has a hole at the top! That was the shell she was looking for! After she found the seashell the fish on the rock told her to go to a prayer garden and it is located right across from St, Catherine of Siena church. The fish tells the Gardening Angel to look for a red candle. The gardening angel gets to St, Catherine's as soon as possible. The Gardening Angel goes to the prayer garden and finds the candle on a St, Catherine of Siena statue. The rock gives the Gardening Angel another message which was to go into St, Catherine's church and find a cross. The gardening Angel runs into St, Catherine's church and finds a ton of people greeting her and welcoming her to mass. After the mass the Gardening Angel decides to stay at St, Catherine's because she loves it so much.
