

The Superhero Race

One day in South America, the Superheroes had a race. The race was to go from South America to China. Wonder Woman is the judge and wore a cape. She used a notepad and pencil to write down the winner. The Joker and the Penguin, the mean superheroes, used a pig as a car. They went on the pig and stole the trophy. Spiderman and Batman, the good superheroes, stole back the trophy and put the Joker and the Penguin in jail. So, Batman and Spiderman won the race and officially won the trophy.
