PROUDLY PRESENTS:
Judith L. Lauter, PhD

Dr. Lauter is a neuroscientist with thirty years' clinical and laboratory experience at major research universities. She has worked with a wide variety of individuals, including children with autism, seniors with Alzheimer's and adults with chronic pain. Teachers, clinicians, and parents in the U.S. and abroad regularly enjoy her lectures and informative workshops describing her research and new recommendations on ways we can all help our brains and bodies reach their full potential.
