

16th Annual All Saints Procession

October 30th marked the 16th year that SFdS middle school students have dressed as saints and processed into All Saints Day Mass. In preparation for the feast day, students chose a saint with whom they felt a special connection, and researched the life and historical significance of that person. In addition to writing a report, each student also designed and made a symbolic representation of his or her selection. Throughout the day, middle school students visited the younger grades classrooms to give a short presentation about their chosen saint. The day was a wonderful reminder of our church history and the diversity of role models for our children to follow.
